MASONIC MEDALS.

THE MARVIN COLLECTION.

, AMERICA.

The first reference by number is in all instances to Mr. Marvin's work, now nearly through the press,—“The Medals of the Masonic Fraternity.” The figures in parentheses refer to Merzdorf's work, “Die Denkmünzen der Freimaurerbrüderschaft,” Oldenburg, 1851.

The closing numbers refer to the size according to the American scale of sixteenths of an inch. The term bronze is used alike for true bronze and copper bronzed.

Legends and inscriptions are sometimes copied; but more often, in the case of foreign medals, a free translation is given, according to Marvin's work.

The obelisk (†) at the end of the description indicates that the medal is illustrated in the Catalogue, particular reference to the plate being deemed unnecessary.

MASONIC AND SECRET ORDER MEDALS.

[ADDITIONAL.]

- 758 GERMANY. Medal of the Lodge in Cassel. Beehive, with bees; in exergue CASSEL and emblems; rev., hand pointing to radiant clouds, Erkenntnis below; edge engraved 5820, etc.; very good; silver, thick planchet. 17

This piece, received since this Catalogue was in press, proves that No. 412 is a Masonic. Unknown to Merzdorf.

- 759 FRANCE. Typical head of the Republic; rev., long inscription in French, eleven lines, commemorating the protest of the Freemasons against the civil war, in 1871. Perhaps a cast, bronzed, but if so, remarkably sharp. 248. 29
- 760 United States Quarter Dollar of 1805; stamped with the square and compasses.
- 761 Masonic Stud; square and compasses, and letter G; gold-plated, fine. 15

- 762 Signet of a Select Templar; a nine-pointed star, formed by three interlaced triangles within a larger triangle, all surrounded by an inscription in cipher: rev., a triangle, bows, arrows, etc.; V. T. S. R. T. D. C. T. A.; engraved J. C. F. Cheever, Feb. 8, 1856; silver, very fine. 63
- 763 Same as the last, except that an engraved emblem within the triangle on the reverse seems to indicate another degree; the name of the member T. Sarson; silver, very fine. 23
- 764 Another; the emblem indicates a third degree; the name, D. D. Phillips, in inverted letters; silver, fine. 23
- 765 Bust of Bernard facing left; on the left MD, on the right XXXI; legend St. Bernard, the divine (Latin), etc.; rev., arms, quartered, surmounted by a cardinal's hat, tassels, etc.; legend, Stephen, in the Celian Mount, Presbyter Cardinal, and Bishop of Trent (Latin); cast, bronze. 17.

This ancient medal of the Bishop of Trent seems to commemorate the occupant of that See near the time of the famous Council of Trent, called to denounce Luther. It also bears the name of a Saint renowned among Masonic Knights Templar. The piece is probably without any Masonic significance, although the Bishops of Trent belonged to the Church militant, and were independent princes of the German Diet in the Middle Ages, and their Cathedral, built in the 13th century, is attributed to the skill of the "Travelling Freemasons."
